1. Why are you interested in this role with PNC? *

RippleMatch Tip: PNC will pay particular attention to this response when reviewing your application, so take your time! We recommend 3-5 sentences for questions like this one.

For as long as I can remember, I've found myself interested in the intersection of finance and technology. In 2012, I began exploring Bitcoin; mining, trading, and investing, while exploring how blockchain technology has the potential to change the modern financial structures. At PNC, I want to continue to explore new technologies and discover how I can apply my skills in data analytics and development to improve banking services provided to myself and millions of loyal PNC customers.

2. Are you authorized to work lawfully in the United States? *

Yes

3. Will you now or at any time in the future require sponsorship for employment visa status (e.g. H1B, OPT)? *

No

4. This role requires interns to be located in or commute to Pittsburgh, PA for 10 weeks over the summer. Are you comfortable with this requirement? *

I live in Fairfax, VA but am willing to relocate to Pittsburgh, PA

5. Tell us about a personal project you've recently worked on. *

I'm always looking for new ways to expand my skillset, and recently I've begun working on a personal finance app built in Java that will allow users to track their personal savings, expenses, investments, and loans locally. The app features budgeting advice and allows users to truly understand their personal finances. The app uses a Derby database backend and a Java swing GUI. I plan to move my project into a fully fledged Android app later this semester!

project into a fully fledged Android app later this semester.

Your answers to these questions will serve as your cover letter and application to this role. A recruiter at PNC will view these answers directly, so please take your time and ensure you put your best foot forward.
